

There and Back Again

A Second Journey To Kotzk

Beit Midrash Morasha
@ Arthur's Road
בית מדרש מורשה

1. “And Yaakov called his sons saying ‘Come together and I will tell you what will happen to you at the End of Days’” (Bereishit 49:1)
He desired to reveal the End to them, but the Divine Presence left him. (Rashi)
They hinted to him from Heaven that they do not want him to do this.
It is better that his sons shouldn't know the end and the time of redemption, but rather would long for it with great yearning.
2. “And I will take you out from under the burden of Egypt” (Shmot 6:6)
The first step to freedom is rebellion against slavery.
Redemption is not possible until you first despise exile.
"Burden" is an expression of tolerating something.
Moshe informed the Jewish people
That The Holy One, blessed is He, would take from them the tolerance
For the oppression of Egypt and all of the baggage that came with it,
So that they would not be able to be burdened by it any more.
And from this foundation sprouted redemption.
3. “And it was כנגן המנגן when the musician played or: when like the instrument is the musician) and the hand of Hashem was upon him.” (Melachim/Kings II 3:15)
A pure musician, who has no personal agenda in his music
Can bring close the Redemption.
Because the Chamber of Music is close to the Chamber of Moshiach.
And only then "will the hand of Hashem be upon him".
And this is the explanation of כנגן המנגן
If the musician has no agenda, like the musical instrument
Then the hand of Hashem will be upon him.
4. Tears
Can also be a form of bribery.
5. A great generation
Can make do with small leaders
A small generation
Need great leaders
Like a desperately ill person who needs an expert doctor
To heal him from his sickness.
6. “A man over the community” (Bamidbar 27:16)
A leader who can tolerate every person according to his personality. (Rashi)
Moshe saw the great importance of Pinchas
And worried that he would be chosen as the leader,
And it was not good in Moshe's eyes
That the Jewish people should have a zealous leader like him.
Therefore he asked from The Holy One, blessed is He
That the leaders of Israel would "tolerate every person"
That he would be a tolerant leader
And not an extreme and fanatical one.
7. If you have studied much Torah
Do not hold good to yourself (Pirkei Avot 2:8)
If you are a great scholar, an instructor of Halacha and a Dayan
Do not keep the good and lenient laws to yourself
And the harsh laws to others.
8. There is no danger as great
As habit.
9. “You must guard My statutes and laws
That a person must do, and live by them.” (Vayikra 18:5)
That the Mitzvot must be done with life and with fire
And not from habit, like a learned routine.
10. And make us habitual in your Torah (Siddur)
For Mitzvot, habit is not a good thing
As it says
"Their reverence for Me was a learned routine"
(Yeshayahu/Isaiah 29:13)
This is not the case when it comes to Torah study
Here - habit is positive and an accomplishment.

11. The mind of a person is a holy place, the Holy of Holies
The abode and sanctuary of the holy intellect
Therefore someone who thinks evil thoughts or foreign ideas
Is that not placing an idol in the Temple?

12. Some people complain that "foreign thoughts" disturb their prayer.
But are those thoughts really "foreign" to them?
After all, they are their own thoughts.

13. Not everything that a person thinks should be said
Not every that is said should be written
Not everything that is written should be published.

14. "Do not turn after you hearts and after your eyes"
(Bamidbar 15:39)
Included in this prohibition
Are people who cannot learn or pray properly
Because they are worried and distracted that they may have done wrong in the past
And their soul is bitter because of yesterday's actions.

15. Death is truly nothing.
It is like a person moving from one house to another.
However the world intelligent person chooses a better house
Than the first.

16. "If you will lend money to My nation,
To the poor person with you" (Shmot 22:24)
Neither gold nor silver accompany a person to his Eternal Home
Only Teshuva and good deeds. (Tana Dbei Eliyahu Rabbah 18)
Therefore, if you want your money to accompany you to the World of Truth
Know that "to the poor person" and only what you give to the poor
Will be "with you" - after many days and years.

17. And you who are bonded to Hashem your God
You are all alive today (Devarim 4:5)
The Yetzer HaRa entices a person and says:
Serving God is bondage
And why do you want to enslave yourself?
The advice is "you are all alive today"

Tell him that today you wish
To serve your creator and no further.
Tomorrow, you will once again say this
And so too every day after that
All the days of your life.

18. "The days of our years in them are seventy years"
(Tehillim 90:10)
The words "in them" teach us that in measurements a person has many years
But in essence, all of his years are included in only one hour,
Because all of the tikkun of all of the days of his life
Is given only into that hour in which he brought the Torah
From the hidden into the revealed,
That he performed one of the Mitzvot like the Divine
Chariot
When he truly served Hashem, blessed is He
That in this he elevates all the days of his struggle
To the goal that was desired from him.

19. A person is commanded in two things:
Not to deceive himself
And not to imitate someone else.

20. "And God created man in his image
In the image of God He created him." (Bereishit 1:27)
A person must protect his image and uniqueness
And not imitate someone else
Not in deed and not in thought Because in the beginning of creation was "man in his image"
And only afterwards "in the image of God he created him".

21. "When he becomes old, behold he is like an ape"
(Midrash Kohelet Rabba 1:3)
Just as is it the way of an ape to imitate people
So too a person, when he becomes old
Imitates himself
And behaves in the way that he used to do.

22. So-and-so is learned!
He learns so very very much.
But when does he have any time available
To know something?

23. Where do we see “a foolish saint”?
 Someone who Heaven decreed that they would be a fool
 And he goes well beyond the letter of the law
 In order to fulfil the decree of Heaven in his foolishness
 And thereby becomes even more foolish.
24. Not every person is able to reach the level
 That Avraham Avinu, the first Jew
 Reached after the age of 48 years.
 But every person can walk in the path of Avraham
 That he walked in until the age of 48 years
 The way of longing and seeking.
25. “And he who increases understanding, increases pain.”
 (Kohelet 1:18)
 So what?
 It is worthwhile for a person to increase pain
 As long as he increases understanding.
26. A Chassid is one whom on every word or deed
 Asks from himself an accounting
 What did I want in this?
27. A Chassid has reverence for Heaven.
 A Mitnagid has reverence for the Shulchan Aruch.
28. There are genii in Torah
 However in Chassidut there are no genii
 In Chassidut you need to toil
 Like a blacksmith toils with a hammer.
29. One who wants to be a Rebbe
 Must ascend mountains and descend into valleys
 To search for treasures, to knock on gates and gates and gates
 Until the heart break, the body crumbles
 The heavens and the earth falter
 But he still stands.
30. A certain Tzaddik has the power to resurrect the dead?
 Really?
 Resurrecting the dead is the task of the Holy One, blessed is He
 A Rebbe of Chassidim needs to resurrect the living.
31. What is the difference between myself and a Rebbe?
 A Rebbe helps and assists and lifts every person
 Who comes to shelter in is shadow
 And lifts every person
 To a high level in Judaism.
 However I – I do not do this.
 I want every person
 To work on himself and on his middot
 And become exhausted in reaching his level.
32. There are some Tzaddikim who are prepared to pray
 For sick people that they will be healed,
 But they do not trouble themselves
 To help the household of the sick person
 Who are unable to provide for the home.
33. For what purpose does a Jew come into the world?
 To fix up his soul?
 For that it wouldn't be worth all of the effort.
 He comes to uplift the Heaven.
34. Regarding Yaakov our father it says:
 “And Yaakov awake from his sleep and he said...”
 He prayed, learned, did something.
 However with Pharaoh we find:
 “And Pharaoh woke up and he slept and he dreamed a second time...”
 A dream without action, passing like a shadow.
35. “This time I will thank Hashem” (Bereishit 29:35)
That I have taken more than my share
And now I must thank. (Rashi)
 Why is a son of Israel called “Yehudi”?
 He is named after Yehuda
 And the name of Yehuda – comes from expressing praise and gratitude.
 A true Yehudi must believe
 That Hashem, blessed is He, does goodness with him
 Far more than what is due to him from his actions:
 “That I have taken more than my share”
 And this is the secret of the name “Yehudi”
36. There are not enough bags in the world
 In which to place the great cunningness
 Of the strategies of the Yeitzer Hara
 Against our own strategies.
